Mendeley: Organizing Your Research
Research writing is more effective when you take an active approach to organizing your sources as you read. Mendeley is a web-based research management tool to save and organize references. With Mendeley, you create a personal library. Mendeley functions with Microsoft Word and other word processors to create footnotes, citations, and a bibliography for your paper, formatted to the correct style (MLA, APA, Chicago Style, etc.). Attendees will learn how to create an account, save and organize references, generate in-text citations and bibliographies, and collaborate with classmates and colleagues.

Date: Monday, March 26, 2018
Time: 4:00-5:00 p.m.
Campus: Tempe
